Taster Days for Animal Osteopathy

Saturday 18 March (Equine) / Sunday 19 March (Canine)

Would you like to know more about animal osteopathy before committing to a postgraduate course? Our new Animal Osteopathy Taster Days could be just what you're looking for!

Each day will run from 9am to 5pm and will include:

- An insight into life as an equine/canine osteopath
- Information about career path options
- Real life case studies, highlighting the osteopathic approach
- Live demonstrations of osteopathic evaluation and treatment
- Hands-on practical experience - interact with our equine and/or canine models

Led by two of our most senior animal programme lecturers (with over 20 years collective experience), these fun-filled days will help you decide if animal osteopathy is right for you.

Cost: £155 per day (or £299 for both days) - includes lunch and refreshments
